

CCPH 11th Conference

May 12-15, 2010 ■ Portland, Oregon USA

Creating the Future We Want to Be: Transformation through Partnerships

Community-Campus Partnerships for Health is convening our 11th conference to nurture a growing network of community-campus partnerships that are striving to address the root causes of health, social and economic inequalities. By focusing on Creating the Future We Want to Be, we seek to empower individuals and partnerships to create a just and sustainable future so that we are not passive participants in the status quo or mere witnesses to the change determined by others. By focusing on Transformation through Partnerships, we seek to highlight the power of partnerships to lead and inspire transformation at societal, institutional and personal levels.

Join Hundreds of Colleagues
Who – Like You – Are Passionate
About the Power of Partnerships to Transform Communities & Academe!

Engage in substantive discussions...Gain new knowledge and practical skills...Reflect critically on your work...Take action individually and collectively. Whether you are a novice or experienced, this is one conference you will not want to miss!

How do we combine the knowledge, wisdom and experience in communities and in academic institutions to solve the major challenges facing our society?

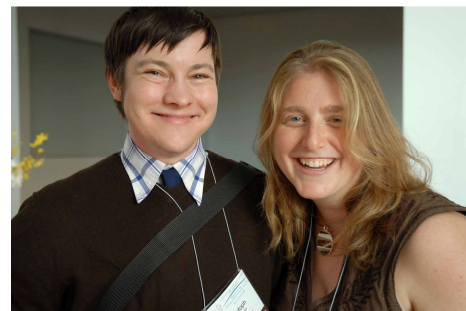

Conference topics include:

- * Community-based participatory research as a tool for social justice
- * Innovative & promising partnership practices
- * Strategies for changing institutional & public policy
- * Aligning promotion & tenure with community-engaged scholarship

Not yet a CCPH member? Join today and receive substantial discounts on conference registration:
<http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/members.html>

Interested in presenting, cosponsoring or exhibiting?
Email us today at ccphuw@u.washington.edu

Get the latest conference info at www.ccph.info

How do we ensure that community-driven social change is central to service-learning & community-based participatory research?

The Northwest Health Foundation in Portland, OR is a Major Conference Partner

The Foundation explicitly identifies community-based participatory research "as a tool to generate meaningful information about community health and build the capacity of groups united by common challenges to organize and advocate for change." Learn more about this innovative philanthropy at www.nwhf.org