CBWCHC Collaborative Care Logic Model for HBV

Inputs	Strategies	Short-term	Long-term	Impact
Community System Clinical Information Suff-Management State & City Funding Chinatown Health Clinic Foundation Endominity System Design Organization Self-Management Clinical Information Self-Management System Design Organization	Chronic Care Model Organizational support for program Identify key center-wide team members for training and clarification of roles Implement monthly team meetings Develop & implement practice guidelines and internal workflow Team shares lessons learned Provide case management to ensure regular monitoring and treatment for patients Provide patient education Create social marketing campaign Conduct community screening Provide "patient passport" (a selfmanagement tool) for chronic patients Engage community partners Develop electronic medical records templates and registry Conduct clinical peer review Aggregate analysis of patient data Patient data & identifying needs of demographic Engage with community liaison or expert to identify emerging neighborhoods	Increased patient awareness, knowledge & self-efficacy Increased community awareness and engagement in HBV Increased number of community members screened Improved adherence to prevention and treatment schedule Improved functioning of collaborative care team	Comprehensive, quality care Increase public resources for treatment Improved patient outcomes	Eliminate health disparities in HBV Reduced HBV rate in community